A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, in writing of the their charge,—People's Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, in writing of thousands of our youth, by evil example and the influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-polinton without realizing the sin and fearfol con sequences upon themselves and their posterity. The constitutions of thousands, who are raising families have been effectled, if not broken down, and they do not known the cause or the eure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the poblic mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide-spread source of luman wretchduess, would confer the greatest blessing text to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generations. CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION. This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the eases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are over every other medicine of its kind is to apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, &c.; and for Children it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been, and that the genuine article is sold by
